MILWAUKEE COUNTY PARKS WIN ANOTHER NATIONAL AWARD

National Association of Counties recognizes Park Ranger initiative

Milwaukee, WI – Milwaukee County Board Chairman Lee Holloway and Milwaukee County Supervisor Gerry Broderick are pleased to announce that the Milwaukee County Parks Department is being recognized by the National Association of Counties for its Park Ranger initiative.

“I commend Parks Director Sue Black and all Park Rangers for their efforts to make the Parks system even more enjoyable for families in Milwaukee County,” Board Chairman Lee Holloway said. “This recognition is well-deserved. Sue and her team at the Parks Department work hard every day to make sure that our parks are safe and user-friendly for all Milwaukee County residents.”

The Park Ranger initiative was selected as a 2009 Achievement Award Winner in recognition of an effective and innovative program that contributes to and enhances County government in the United States.

“This award is yet another example of Sue Black’s innovative leadership as Parks Director. She continues to perform well beyond the expenditures allocated to her department,” said Supervisor Broderick, Chairman of the County Board’s Parks, Energy & Environment Committee. “I certainly hope the County Executive recognizes the depth of talent that she possesses. She does not always receive the acknowledgement she deserves for all the things she does for this Administration.”

The NACo Achievement Awards will be presented at the 2009 Annual Conference in Nashville next month.
